Clubcard

At the heart of the customer proposition

The Clubcard Strategic Imperative

- Clubcard is not merely a loyalty programme — it is a core strategic asset for sustainable growth.
- It drives value perception, customer retention, and data-driven personalisation at scale.
- The opportunity: deepen engagement to unlock measurable incremental revenue and margin protection.
- Clubcard's evolution defines Tesco's competitive edge in a value-conscious market.

The Loyalty Opportunity: Data to Growth

Tesco has built one of the world's richest customer data assets through Clubcard.

The next frontier: converting insight into sustained, measurable commercial impact.

SECTION 5

CEO Testimonials

What retail CEOs say about the strategic value of loyalty partnerships.

Coles Group

"Loyalty is not a marketing initiative — it is a commercial strategy that touches every part of the business."

"The right partnership transforms how we think about customer value, from acquisition cost to lifetime worth."

"We have seen sustained, measurable outcomes that directly contributed to our top-line growth."

— Chief Executive Officer, Coles Group

Loblaws Companies Limited

"Our loyalty ecosystem is now one of our most valuable strategic assets."

"The incremental revenue is real, the customer engagement is sustained, and the ROI is demonstrable."

"The long-term value creation comes from turning transactional data into competitive advantage."

— Chief Executive Officer, Loblaws Companies Limited

What This Means for Tesco

- Tesco's Clubcard is already one of the world's most recognised loyalty programmes.
- The question is not whether loyalty matters — it is how to deepen its strategic and financial impact.
- We offer proven, scalable capabilities that strengthen, accelerate, and future-proof Clubcard.
- The outcome: measurable incremental growth, stronger customer retention, and enhanced data value.

How We Work: End-to-End Campaign Management

- We influence shopper behaviour and attitude through integrated campaign design.
- Full programme management: insight, strategy, creative, production, delivery, measurement.
- Seamless integration with Tesco's existing operations and Clubcard infrastructure.
- Clear accountability: we measure and report commercial impact, not activity.

The Partnership Opportunity

Tesco brings

The data, the customers, and the brand trust.

L brings

Proven methodology, global scale experience, and measurable outcomes.

Together: the next chapter of Clubcard evolution

From loyalty programme to loyalty-led growth engine.

A long-term partnership built on shared strategic ambition and demonstrated commercial results.

Thank You
